FOREWORD

Our stay at Concord High School has been a happy one, and as we, the class of 1949, prepare to enter a new life, we publish this, the record of our senior year so that our memories may not become dim or blurred of all the activities, teachers and fellow students that we have come to know and love during our years of work and play together.

We Dedicate The 1949 Spider Web

To Miss Hildreth Gabriel

You have been unrelenting in teaching, guiding, and leading us by the high ideals that you hold so dear.

Your happy voice, smiling face and ready understanding has helped to make our school days one that we will always cherish.

In dedicating this record of our senior year to you, we only hope to show in our small way our deepest appreciation of all these things.

SALUTATORY

Tonight, as we complete our twelve years of work and reach our goal of graduation, we, the Graduating Class of 1949, welcome you, our teachers, friends, and families.

We have striven diligently, endeavoring always to come a little closer to our chief goal. You, our teachers, have encouraged us to do our best and have led us gently but firmly upward on our path. You, our friends, have helped us onward by being just friends. You, our families, have urged us on in numberless, small ways.

We welcome you here at all times, but especially do we welcome you tonight to witness our success, for we know that it would not mean quite so much to us if you were not here to share it with us.

The basic goal of our school is character building—bringing out the best qualities that lie within us. It prepares us to pass our largest and most important test—the test of life. It brings about our harmonious growth in every respect. It produces capable leaders, tempers our minds, and enlarges and cultivates our whole personalities.

YESTERDAY IS DEAD

Now on the brink of departure and final adieu, we stand with uncertainty before us, but behind us a well established past. To appreciate our present status we must examine the past for its formations and its foundations. This class of 1949 rose from its stage of infancy into boy and girlhood in 1943, for it was then that we came to Concord High School.

These first years were spent in constant observation and study, so as to cast off any reflection of our grammar school days. We stared enviously at the huge, dignified seniors before us and rejoiced at the thoughts of such a great achievement.

As the years were spent, we began to feel our places in this institute of education and to establish our ways and activities in coherence with the rules and government of the school.

Our progress was unnoticed for several years. Yes, Concord High was yet to feel the impact of our knowledge, service, leadership, and our athletic ability.

We made our first important debut in 1948, at which time our class, guided very ably by Laura Young McClellan, Quincy Collins, Jesse Fisher, and Betty Stone, honored the

Do not think, however, that school is continual enjoyment and pleasure. Rather, school is nothing if it is not the stadium for intellectual exercise.

Concord High School tonight becomes more than a school building; it becomes our Alma Mater and will long hold our thoughts and our love. Whether we stop our studies tonight or whether we go forward to greater heights in the field of education, it is here our thoughts shall turn as we think of our first success, our first goal attained.

It is to you who have been glad when we were glad, who have felt pain when we stumbled, and who have thrilled to our accomplishments as we thrilled also—it is to you that we dedicate this program. We welcome you, our teachers, friends and most of all our families; for we know that in some small measure, you, too, are experiencing the great success and happiness which is ours tonight.

ANN MILLER, Salutatorian

senior class of 1948 with a very well organized banquet and dance.

Then suddenly before we realized it, we had reached our goal in our secondary education. As seniors, under the leadership of Martha Kluttz, Albert McCoy, Jane Biggers, and Jackie Airheart, we have advanced in the ways of activities, knowledge, and have practically matured into an independent state.

Yes, those youthful years are in the past. Those years have fallen into their place and are found only in our memories.

But wait! Grieve not over the past, for the past is too much with us. Instead, prepare in the present for the future. We, the graduating class of 1949, stand at the crossroads of our careers. Which way shall we go? How will the future beckon us? "Go forth to meet the shadowy Future with fear and with a manly heart."

"Yes, yesterday is dead! But only the weak and the incurably greedy will weep for yesterday. Tomorrow is a different day. It will belong only to those who are as clear of mind as they are strong of heart."

Behind us a great experience,
With us a greater knowledge,
Before us the greatest challenge.

PROPHECY

We, the Prophets of the Senior Class of '49, consulted the age old charts of astronomy to bring you a preview of the future life of our classmates. As we gaze into the heavens we see:

Harry Lee Underwood, a prominent figure in politics, running for Vice-President of the United States on the Dixiecrat's ticket.

Mary Ida and Johnny Mae Fisher are seen in a Life Magazine advertisement (Which twin has the Toni?).

Floyd Jarvis, Lookie Basinger, Janie Shankle, and Howard Jones are singing as a quartet with Maurice Allen's orchestra.

Endrea Black and her assistant, Ann Miller, have just found a mistake in Einstein's theory of relativity.

Professor Albert Erwin and his able assistant, Preston Chaney, have just communicated with the moon and plan a trip there in the near future.

Jerry McClellan and Conrad Cagle are professional hunters and guides in darkest Africa.

As we consult the stars again we see that Rodney Howell and "Kappy" Greene are ready to make their debut at Carnegie Hall with a piano duet entitled "Chopsticks".

Parker Duncan recently graduated from the theological seminary.

Charles Readling is recuperating in the hospital after making his debut as an umpire.

Jesse Fisher and Quincy Collins are still making flops on Broadway as two ham actors.

Cleve Llewellyn is doing a booming business in a sporting goods store in Mt. Pleasant with the supplies he picked up during football season.

Robert Lowder is operating a chicken farm in Connecticut. He is assisted by Ray Nanney and Kenneth C. Furr.

"Smiling 'Chuck' Sapp" is still swindling people in used ear business.

Robert Rowe and Bill Ikerd are still tearing cars apart but haven't quite learned how to put them together again.

"Ick" Alley, Ken Seltzer, and Kenneth DeBerry are playing with the Midland Pro-football Eleven, but have yet to win a game.

Allen "Bones" Staton and Joe Max Andrews are building a new gym that will specialize in a muscle building course.

Patsy Sides, Betty Jean Earley, Bennie Yerton, Jean Harris, and Laura Young McClellan are entering a beauty contest in Atlantic City.

With help of the constellations we are able to see another interesting picture.

Clyde McGee and Graham Simmons, two members of the local Fire Department, were given a vote of praise when they extinguished the flame which was destroying their checker board.

Ned "Machine Gun" Barringer, Clifford "Toughie" Rimer, Carroll "Smiley" Herring, and Jack "Speck" Simpson are members of Bill "Boston Blackie" Fleming's mob around at "Greasy Corner".

Charles Brewer and Steve Strawn have just created a new perfume.

Betty Moose recently played a Flute concert before a packed auditorium at Cook's crossing.

Aileen Cantwell was voted "Miss Peach" by the Fruit Growers Association.

Mabel Martin, Frances Laughlin, Phyllis Greene, and Polly Helms are currently starring in a movie entitled "Dead Pan Alley."

Bobby Slough, a famous Philadelphia lawyer, in one of the most dramatic cases in history, proved Dale Motsinger and Tommy Blackwelder innocent of chicken stealing.

Elisa Perez is doing nicely as a rhumba Queen at the Stork Club in New York City.

Ray Bryant is selling a patent medicine known as "Snake Oil" throughout the country.

Eddie Sloan is now manager of the beautiful Fox Theater in Atlanta, Georgia.

Mary Gibson Widenhouse was recently voted "Lumber Queen" of Midland.

Donald "Crash" Furr is burning up the track on the "Locust Level" speedway as a stock car driver.

Harold Hughes is currently starring as the villain in a Broadway production. Jackie Airheart, "Snookie" Ritchie, and Betty Stone are his co-stars.

Harold Haywood has almost completed his space ship in which he plans to travel to Mars.

We see Ernestine Litaker, a Power's model, on a Camel cigarette advertisement.

Betty Lou Brown is now the celebrated horse trainer for Ringling Brothers Circus.

Barbara Ann Hennessee, Janie Misenheimer, and Kathryn Cook are playing for a Woman's Pro-basketball team.

Betty Lou Wellman and Peggy Lipe are lady house detectives at the Hotel Concord.

Carol Buckwell, Joyce Tucker, Carolyn Ballard, Annie Lee Lomax, Geraldine Mosley and Sylvia Seymour are operating a Dude Ranch in Texas.

Jean Deaton, Marie Verble, Anne Louise Earley, Clara Cline, and Joan Lipe combined their talents to write a novel entitled "This World Without Men".

Bobby Misenheimer, better known as "Smiling Dice", has a radio show telling the kiddies stories.

Suzi Dry, Jane Biggers, and Margaret Anne Sasser are making a nation-wide lecture tour speaking on the topic of Flirtation Methods.

Jean Haney, Earleen Pratt, Margaret Cagle and Ruth Case are teaching in the Grammar schools of this city.

Louise Thompson, Peggy Davis, Doris Teeter, Winifred Lipe, Peggy Holland, and Lavada Hudspeth are in training at Cabarrus Hospital.

Carolyn Junker, Barbara Hill, Martha Kluttz, Sue Bost, and Ann Burris are teaching Ballet at the Arthur Murray School of Dance.

After viewing this wonderful spectacle of the Heavens we leave you with this one remaining thought:

Although our class may not have been the best, you can't deny that their future will be superb.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the Senior Class of '49, do declare this to be our Last Will and Testament.

SECTION I

ARTICLE I

To our beloved principal, Mr. Clemm, we leave our gratitude for his patience and a six month's supply of Stanback to cure the headache we gave him.

ARTICLE II

To our beloved faculty, we leave our deepest appreciation for their insight and understanding, and our permission to take a year's vacation with pay to rest up.

ARTICLE III

To the jolly Juniors, we leave Miss Lillian Stewart to guide them through their difficulties and our hope that they will enjoy their senior year to the fullest.

SECTION II

I, Maurice Allen, leave my "famous" horn to Bill Hansil and a "no trespassing" sign on "Keachie".

We, Jackie Airheart and Charles Readling, leave our sensational laughs to Donald Corl and Gordon Drye who, we feel, can be trusted with them.

I, Carolyn Junker, leave my versatility to Jane Staton who has quite a bit of her own.

I, Kappy Green, leave my musical ability to Betty Caton with best wishes for success.

We, Ken DeBerry, "Ick" Alley, and Kenneth Seltzer, leave our athletic abilities to Bob Mabrey, Jimmy Doggett, and "Chip" Ritchie.

I, Bennie Yerton, leave my beautiful olive complexion to Bennie Jane Matthews so that she may never blister her fair face again.

I, Joe Max Andrews, leave to Donald Bost my kind nature and sweet disposition.

I, Betty Stone, leave all the fun of my high school years to my brother, Jimmy.

We, "Chuck" Sapp and Cleve Llewellyn, leave our management of the boys' basketball team to—brace yourself, fellow—Howard Coleman.

I, Mary Gibson Widenhouse, leave my quiet capability to Joan Peninger, who is most deserving.

I, Dale Motsinger, leave my love for women to my "little" brother Don (who doesn't need any more!) and my school spirit to the whole student body which could use a great deal.

I, Bobby Slough, leave my quiet dignity to Don Waddell.

I, Johnnie May Fisher, leave my bashfulness to Sara Blackwelder who needs it.

I, Hansie McCoy, leave my fatigue cap to Bub Deaton and my good looks to Ray Green.

I, Robert Lowder, leave to anyone who needs it my ability to pass French.

I, Ernestine Litaker, leave the great fun I had in the band to Carolyn Little.

We, Quincy Collins and Jesse Fisher, leave our ability to cause riots of laughter to be distributed among all the members of the student body so that there may never again be two as witty as we.

I, Patsy Sides, leave my beauty to Mary Ruth Klutzz.

We, Ray Nanney and Phil MacLaughlin, leave our back stage abilities to Carl Roberts and Harold Suther.

I, Nancy Scott, leave my simplicity to Betty McDaniels.

I, Clyde McCee, take my title, "Biggest Pest", with me in hopes that I'm leaving relief to everyone.

We, "Kat" Cook and Janie Misenheimer, leave our ideals of fair play and our will to win to Phyllis Coleman and Sally Scott.

I, Harry Lee Underwood, leave my leadership ability to Bill Morris.

I, Lois Page, leave my nickname, "Bruno", to Lottie Ruth Carpenter.

We, Tommy Blackwelder, Ray Bryant, and Graham Simmons, leave our neatness to Watson Bost, Hunter Benfield, and Jimmy Holshouser who, we hope, will please take heed to this.

I, Carolyn Ballard, leave my "Come hither" eyes to Colleen Whitley.

I, Mable Martin, leave my secret to having curly hair on rainy days to Dot Safrit—wear a scarf!

I, Frances Laughlin, leave my giggles to Flora Furr, but I don't know what she's going to do with mine and hers, too.

We, Ned Barringer and Bill Ikerd, leave our ability to hold our temper even when our poor cars are drastically overloaded to Don Perkins and David (Dink) Widenhouse.

I, Ruth Case, leave my even temper to Arnie Efrid.

We, Bobby (Dice) Misenheimer and Howard Jones, leave our love for mischief to Gene Morris and Frank Moose.

I, Harold Hughes, leave all my sense and non-sense to Gary Widenhouse.

I, Harold Haywood, leave my dignity to Zeb Vance Smith.

We, Margaret Ann Sasser and Betty Lou Wellman, leave our length and width respectively to one who could use it, Alice Ketner.

We, Joyce Tucker and Doris Teeter, leave to Gail Winecoff and Nancy Widenhouse all our jokes and nonsense.

I, Betty Lou Brown, leave my unconcerned attitude to anyone who can afford to have it.

I, Sue Bost, leave my vivaciousness to Gail Francis. Be careful, Gail.

I, Mary Ida Fisher, leave my appealing looks to Elise Lomax.

We, Louise Thompson, Joan Vaughn, and Sylvia Seymour, leave our reserve to Millie Earnhardt, Iris Coley, and Louise Roberts who, we hope, will use it to good advantage.

I, Phyllis Green, leave my shyness to Betty Hayes, who has none of her own.

I, Barbara Hill, leave my gorgeous red hair to Orchard Hord. She's tried so hard to be a red head.

We, Snookie Ritchie and Endrea Black, leave all our talent and originality to Beverly Cumbie and Annis Trout.

I, Betty Moose, leave my capable management of the Spiderettes to Shirley Little.

I, Martha Kluttz, leave my general ability to my little sister (who's bigger than I am), Mary Ruth.

I, Preston Chaney, leave my ambition to my sister, Catherine, with the hope that one of us will succeed!

We, Polly Helms and Peggy Davis, leave our doll-like size to Barbara Keasler.

I, Parker Duncan, leave my ability to hit that basket to Bill Irvin.

I, B'ann Hennessee, leave the editorship of the "Weavings" to any hapless Junior who wishes to undertake the task.

I, "Lookie" Basinger, leave to the cheerleading squad my cheering ability and my winning smile.

We, Albert Erwin and Rodney Howell, leave our "Einstein" brains to Fred Hull.

I, Laura Young McClellan, leave my popularity to Janet Hoover.

We, Peggy Lipe, Anne Lee Lomax and Peggy Holland, leave our knack for French to Peggy Furr, Carolyn Newton, and Catherine Chaney, respectively.

I, Jean Harris, leave my seat in Miss Boulus' room to anyone who will appreciate the kindness and understanding of a wonderful teacher.

I, Annie Louise Early, leave my neat appearance to Carolyn Smith.

We, Margaret Cline and Lavada Hudspeth, leave our ability to get married before graduation to Peggy Beaver and Vivian Honeycutt.

I, Suzi Dry, leave my ability to chatter constantly to Marie Cochrane because she has enough reserve to keep it under control.

I, Jane Biggers, leave to Bette Hoover my sweet disposition.

I, Jack Simpson, leave my freckles to Hunter Benfield since he has no red ones.

We, Anne Burris and Clara Cline, leave all our charms to Billie Ann Braswell and Eleanor Goldston so that they can always get their men.

I, Janie Shankle, leave my "fainting spells" to Bunci Robinson with the hope that my real "pass-outs" can replace the ones she has faked.

I, Earleen Pratt, leave my duties as library assistant to Barbara Blain.

I, Charles Brewer, leave my biography, "How To Be a Casanova in Ten Easy Lessons", to Marion Bost.

We, Ann Miller and Joan Lipe, leave the gray matter in our upper stories (brains, that is) to Betty Jo Irvin and Maxine Swaringen.

I, Allen Staton, leave my size to Mickey Hopkins.

We Robert Rowe and Carroll Herrin, leave our books, especially English and higher algebra to the city incinerator.

I, Geraldine Mosely, leave my ability to be kind to everyone to Ann Weddington.

I, Bill Fleming, leave my brogue to my brother, Gary, because no one else could master it.

We, Jerry McClellan, Clifford Rimer, Conrad Cagle, and Eddy Sloan, leave our ability to make friends to Max Ridenhour, Clyde Rodgers, and Bobby Helms.

I, Marie Verble, am taking all my eighty-seven pounds with me!

I, Don Furr, leave my big mouth to Herbert Wellman.

We, Louise Smith, Winifred Lipe, Jean Haney, Aileen Cantwell, and Carol Buckwell, leave our smiles and laughter to Inabell McClamrock, Carolyn Smith, Doris Russell, Imogene Walker, and Louise Scott.

I, Elisa Perez, leave my "sparkle" to Helen Duncan.

I, Lucille Whitley, leave my love for fads to Joy Strawn.

We, Steve Strawn and Floyd Jarvis, leave our way with women to Duke Hoffman and Joe Propst.

I, Kenneth Furr, leave my ability to graduate to Tommy Sides.

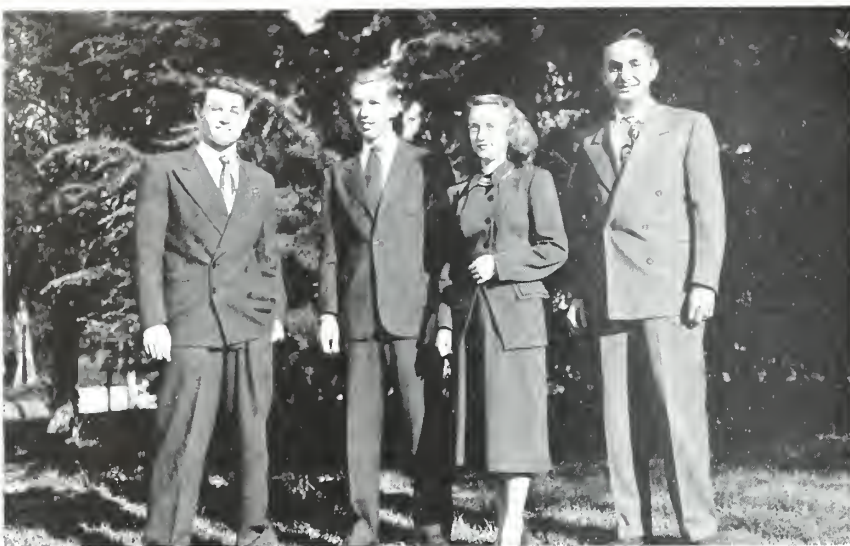

I, Jean Deaton, leave my "scatter brains" to Betty Jean Hay with the understanding that she will not abuse them.

I, Betty Jean Earley, leave my pet expression "jis 'til this and jis 'til that" to Norma Harris, just to keep it alive for awhile.

In witness thereof, we the class of '48 set our hands and seal this the 10th day of February in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and forty-nine.

CLASS POEM

ON LEAVING

A chain of friendship, with each link
A remembrance of bygone days;
With gratitude we are wont to think
Of those who helped to smooth the rugged ways.

A path of knowledge, a goal ahead;
A light to penetrate the dark;
Courage which will help us shed
Our reluctance to embark.

An inspiration strong and true;
A will to conquer all;
With Strength to follow hardships through,
We await life's clarion call.

A character skillfully molded,
A tearful, yet steady eye;
Before us a life is unfolded
As we leave our Concord High.

VALEDICTORY

Today's Seed, Tomorrow's Harvest.

We of the graduating class of nineteen hundred forty-nine have not reached the end, the jumping-off place, the leap in the dark; but we have reached the commencement of more real and complete lives. Little do some realize that these lives will move in obedience to the powerful and invincible law—the great Law of Compensation—which was first put into words by the holy Man of Nazareth, centuries ago, when He said, "With whatsoever measure ye mete, it shall be measured unto you again."

It may not have occurred to us that for whatever harvest we reap, we ourselves must certainly at some time or another have sown the seed, or even that for every effect there must necessarily be behind it a primary cause. But the truth remains that as we daily, hourly, enjoy the pleasures and pains of experiences, we are consciously or unconsciously signing our names to life's same old promissory note, "For value received, I promise to pay!"

The question "Just what are you going to get out of life?" naturally arises in the minds of the School Board members whose silent influence has laid the foundation for this hour. It all rests with us. As Lowell says: "Earth asks its price for what earth gives us;" It only remains then for each one of us to decide within ourselves what we most earnestly desire and then count the cost. Yes, there is always the person who attempts to frustrate the whole scheme of creation by getting something for nothing, but the day of reckoning will come to that individual, teaching him by the payment of long years of accumulated interest on the overdue account that "with exactness, grinds He all."

When we pause to consider all the workings of this universal Law, we begin to grasp a little more definitely the value of our teachers' work in instilling into our minds a few of their noble principles and lofty ideals. How often do we see men and women paying for their early mistakes, however ignorantly committed, by years of remorse and bitter expiation. This is our life to be what we make it. Thus do we see the ultimate justice of that Golden Rule that bids us,

"Whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, do ye even so unto them." Thus good and wise teachers who have given us so fair a start, do we feel our debt of gratitude weighing heavily upon us.

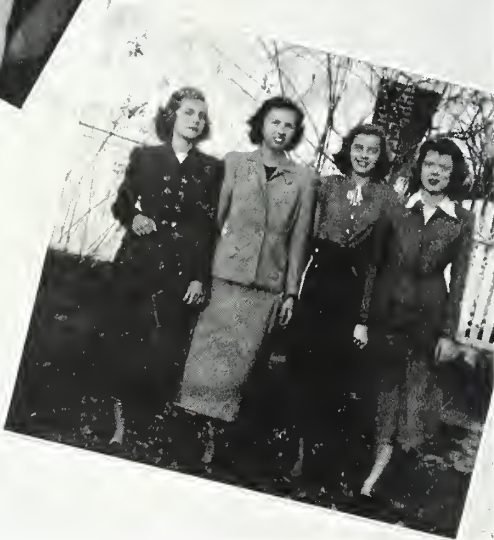

We leave you, the undergraduates of Concord High School, in the best of hands; nevertheless, as we feel ourselves so much older and so very much more experienced tonight, we feel that we must not resign our places in the classroom and on the campus without reminding you of the old proverb:

"Sow a thought, reap an action;
Sow an action,—reap a habit;
Sow a habit,—reap a character;
Sow a character,—reap a destiny!"

Classmates, what a big thought it is that from this time on we have the shaping of our destinies in our own hands. All these years of our student life, we have been on the receiving end of Life's shower of its best gifts. As we look back, how easy it is to estimate the "value received" of our school career! Now the time has come for the working out of our "promise to pay!" Life will never let us forget the constant expense that must be met: our noblest revelations of character, our highest demonstrations of every latent attainment, our truest, tenderest attention to the needs of every brother or sister, our most faithful, self-sacrificing service.

As we step through the gateway, Classmates, let us walk out bravely, realizing that there is absolutely nothing too expensive for us to buy with the assets at our disposal. Let us, then, as we go, resolve that we will keep our record so stainless, our ideals so lofty, our account with life so accurately balanced, that there will never be any bad debts standing out against us, but that the "For value received. I promise to pay," as represented by our diplomas, may be only a pleasant reminder of a most enjoyable duty and enviable privilege. Let us feel that we have a full claim on such portions of it as we wish to make our own, our hearts joyously and gratefully responding to the divine command of old, "Freely ye have received, freely give!"

FOOTBALL

The Spider football team finished the 1948 season with four wins, four defeats, and one tie. All of the players played well during the entire season and at times it seemed as though the Spider "steam-roller" just couldn't be stopped. Ken Seltzer and Ken DeBerry were the hard-charging tackles and "Hansie" McCoy and Parker Duncan played the flankers. Guards were Co-captain Albert Erwin and Pete Wensil. Doggett and Irvin alternated at Quarterback and Bob Mabrey, Chuck Sapp, Buddy Kluttz, Zeb Smith, and Basil Talbirt played the half-back positions. Co-captain "Iek" Alley played fullback along with Conley Ray Suther and "Tub" Braswell.

Individual honors went to Ken DeBerry, All-Conference tackle, Charlotte Observer All-State and Shrine Bowl participant; "Iek" Alley, Charlotte News All-State, and participant in the Optimist Bowl; and, Gene Morris, All-Conference center.

Some plays to remember are: Buddy Kluttz 95 yard runback of an intercepted pass in Kannapolis, "Chuck" Sapp's 25 yard "squirm" through the entire Kannapolis team, Gene "Canvas" Hinson's stampeding run across the goal line in the Belmont Abbey game, and Ken Seltzer's "I've got the ball, but what am I supposed to do with it?" interception in the Children's Home game.

The Student Organization is made up of two bodies, the Student Council and Student Assembly. These organizations are the link between the students and teachers. They direct traffic and help the school by carrying out other duties. The assembly sponsors socials for the students and teachers.

During the past year the Assembly has sponsored many dances, one of which was for overseas relief. They had an orientation program for the seventh grade and also a tea for the teachers. Also the Assembly sponsored clean up week. Sponsors night was an important program undertaken by the Assembly.

The student Assembly is trying to build a good school and better the conditions of the school.

The Invictus Chapter No. 791 of the National Honor Society was organized in 1928 to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character in the students of Concord High School. This year, as one of its projects, the National Honor Society presented a plaque to the school with all the names of former members of Concord High School, who were killed in World War II, on it.

The Forensic Club, which for the first time this year has been under the leadership of Miss Swisher, is one of the most active organizations in the school. It is composed of those students interested in all forms of public speaking. In the past years the American Legion Contest has been the main event. However, this year members of the club also formed a debating team.

The Quill and Scroll, International Honorary Society for High School Journalists, was organized at Concord High in 1942 with the purpose of encouraging and rewarding the individual student for meritorious work in journalism and allied fields. Juniors, seniors, or post-graduates who are in the upper third of their class and who have done superior work in writing, editing, or business management are eligible. The Society's motto is "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make ye free."

The Library Club was organized in September 1948. Members requested that training be given in the use of library materials.

Special study was given to the Dewey Decimal classification of books, card catalog and circulation of books. It is a pre-training group for future library assistants.

The Library Assistants Organization is composed of volunteer students. The purpose of the group is to give good library service to faculty and pupils.

THE NATIONAL THESPIAN SOCIETY

The National Thespian Honor Society for High Schools was organized to give proper recognition to outstanding work done in dramatics. Every year since 1932 troupe 202 of Concord High School has honored outstanding members of the Dramatics Club who have taken an active and intelligent interest in drama by electing them to its membership. The Thirteenth Chair was the Thespian Pan Players production for this year.

DRAMATICS CLUB

OFFICERS

CAROLYN JUNKER	President
MARGARET ANNE SASSER	Vice President
MARY GIBSON WIDENHOUSE	Secretary
JANE BIGGERS	Treasurer
MISS BLANCHE STEWART	Sponsor

The Dramatics Club, consisting of more than 250 members, has become the largest extra-curricular organization of Concord High School. A great number of the Pan Players were given opportunities to participate in plays at the regularly scheduled meeting, in its major productions, and in its class competition plays, which was one of the major activities in the club this year.

MARY ANN HOOVER	Secretary
BEDE BOB SASSER	Treasurer
MISS ALICE STRICKLIN	Sponsor

The Junior Dramatics Club was formed this year because of the unusually large number of freshmen students interested in Dramatics.

The main purpose of the club is to create an interest in dramas, make-up, and backstage work.

The club meets every two weeks and it has given numerous plays and skits for its members and the school. It has also given a one act play in assembly.

KEY CLUB

The Concord High School Key Club was organized in the fall of 1947. Key Clubs are sponsored by Kiwanis Clubs and are more or less junior service clubs in the high schools. Our own club in this school, which is composed of the leaders of the sophomore, junior, and senior classes, is a member of Key Club International with clubs found all over the United States and Canada. This year the Key Club has had a very active year. A few of the things accomplished were: the painting of parts of the school, sponsoring a basketball program, publishing the school directory, furthering the vocational guidance program, and many other important projects.

The Future Homemakers of America's purpose is to build better lives for better homes in the future.

In doing this we have tried to have interesting meetings that will inspire our members "toward new horizons."

We have had a most successful year. Our meetings have been planned around anything from "arts and crafts" to "music appreciation."

A most successful meeting was our "mother and daughter" affair. This way the girls' mothers get to know one another better and the girls to know one another better and feel closer woven, and feel that we have a purpose in this world and can "face the future with warm courage and high hope."

Cafeteria Assistants are students who give their time, energy and service in order that the routine of the school may go on. The daily preparation of lunch in the cafeteria throughout the year brings only the glory of an armband. Miss Cobb's group is to be commended for its spirit of cooperation.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

It is the custom to use this space to acknowledge the help of various and sundry organizations and people etc., etc., etc.; but that would be admitting that we got help—which we did. The only thing that we are willing to acknowledge is our inability to have published the 1949 SPIDER WEB without help.
